WARM AGAIN FOUND GUILTY —JURY OUT FOR 18 HOURS

(By Associated Press)
St. Albans, Vt., May 2.—Robert Warm, a soldier, on trial for the murder of Jennie Hemmingsway in August, 1917, was found guilty of manslaughter for the second time today. The jury was out 18 hours. Warm was convicted of manslaughter in September, 1917, and was sentenced to a term of 10 to 14 years in State Prison, but a retial was ordered on the ground of misconduct of a juror. The second trial lasted nine days. The body of the girl was found in a corn field after an all night search. Warm, who had been her companion was arrested. The defense was based on Warm's story that he was attacked by other soldiers while walking with the girl and ran away.

BOOKS

The first spring lot of "Copyright Novels" from the popular publishers, A. L. Burt & Co., and Grosset and Dunlap, are received at THE ACORN and are offered at a popular price.

Although the cost of paper and of all manufacturing has increased steadily for several years, necessitating an added cost for all books (as well as for all other products) and in spite of the increased cost to us on each one of these hundreds of volumes, The ACORN has kept the price of these very interesting stories down to 50c each. Other booksellers will have to follow.

POLICE CAPTAIN DEAD AFTER RIOT WORK YESTERDAY

(By Associated Press)
Boston, May 2.—Capt. Hugh J. Lee, of the Dudley Street Police Station, in whose district serious rioting occurred yesterday, was found dead in bed at his home in the South Boston district today. Death was said to be due to natural causes. Capt. Lee was on duty yesterday and directed the officers during the rioting.

GOVERNMENT AGAIN CONTROLS CITY OF MUNICH

(By Associated Press)
Paris, May 2.—Bavarian government troops captured Munich from the Communists yesterday morning according to advices reaching here today.

(By Associated Press)
If the work of carrying out the peace negotiations progresses according to the schedule outlined in Paris dispatches the treaty probably will be signed early in the week beginning May 25th. The treaty will be presented Monday afternoon. Reports indicate that it is to be a "victors peace" and there will be no conversations except the most formalities. Fifteen days will be given the enemy to consider the treaty with five days or a week additional for the exchange of views. At the latest if present plans are followed, May 27th should see peace reigning once more between Germany and the allied and associated governments. A secret plenary session of the conference will be held tomorrow while on Monday a meeting will be held for the organization of the League of Nations. Italy is still not represented at the conference. The council of three met yesterday and besides considering the disposition of the German cables, gave Belgium the prior claim on $500,000,000 of the reparation money to be received from Germany. Germany's delegates exchanged credentials with the allied representatives yesterday. Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, the German Foreign Secretary, appeared almost overcome with the sense of his country's defeat when confronted by the allied representatives.

HUNDREDS HURT IN ROXBURY RED BATTLES

(By Associated Press)
New York, May 1.—Comparatively little bloodshed marked the observation in this country of the International Radical Labor day. The most serious was in Cleveland where one man was killed, 11 police officers injured and one hundred people injured. In Boston, three officers were shot and many injured and in Detroit where the radicals attempted to hold a demonstration they were checked.

Boston, May 1.—The Dudley street section of the city was in an uproar this afternoon when 300 policemen, aided by soldiers, sailors and citizens, clashed with several hundred radicals, when they attempted to hold a parade. Three police officers were shot, one man was stabbed and others injured. Two of the men arrested are in the hospital, and others were treated for their injuries by physicians before being locked up. 118 arrests were made including 18 women and the police tonight are combing the section for groups.

Following a meeting of the radicals in the Dudley street opera house they filed out into the street and with red flags flying, and wearing red buttons and the women red dresses, they started down the street. The leaders acknowledged they had no permit to parade but pushed aside the police who attempted to stop them. More officers arrived but they were so outnumbered they could not do anything and when the wagons with the reserves appeared shots were fired at them. The police answered by firing over the heads of the crowd. Stones were thrown and when it was seen that the police were outnumbered, the sailors and soldiers and many citizens went to the assistance of the police and a free for all fight took place in which the radicals were roughly used.

ONE MAN KILLED IN CLEVELAND

(By Associated Press)
Cleveland, May 1.—An unidentified man was killed, 11 police officers wounded and more than a hundred injured in a riot with radicals, which brought to a close a dramatic attempt on the part of the "reds" to make a demonstration on May day. Thirty persons are seriously injured and others were trampled upon by the mob or beaten back by the police. Soldiers in tanks and in squads assisted in quelling the disturbance. The socialist headquarters was completely wrecked.

Protect Your Feet and Legs With Sturdy Comfortable Rubber Boots

When you're afloat in all sorts of weather, it's sound sense to give your feet and legs the best protection possible.

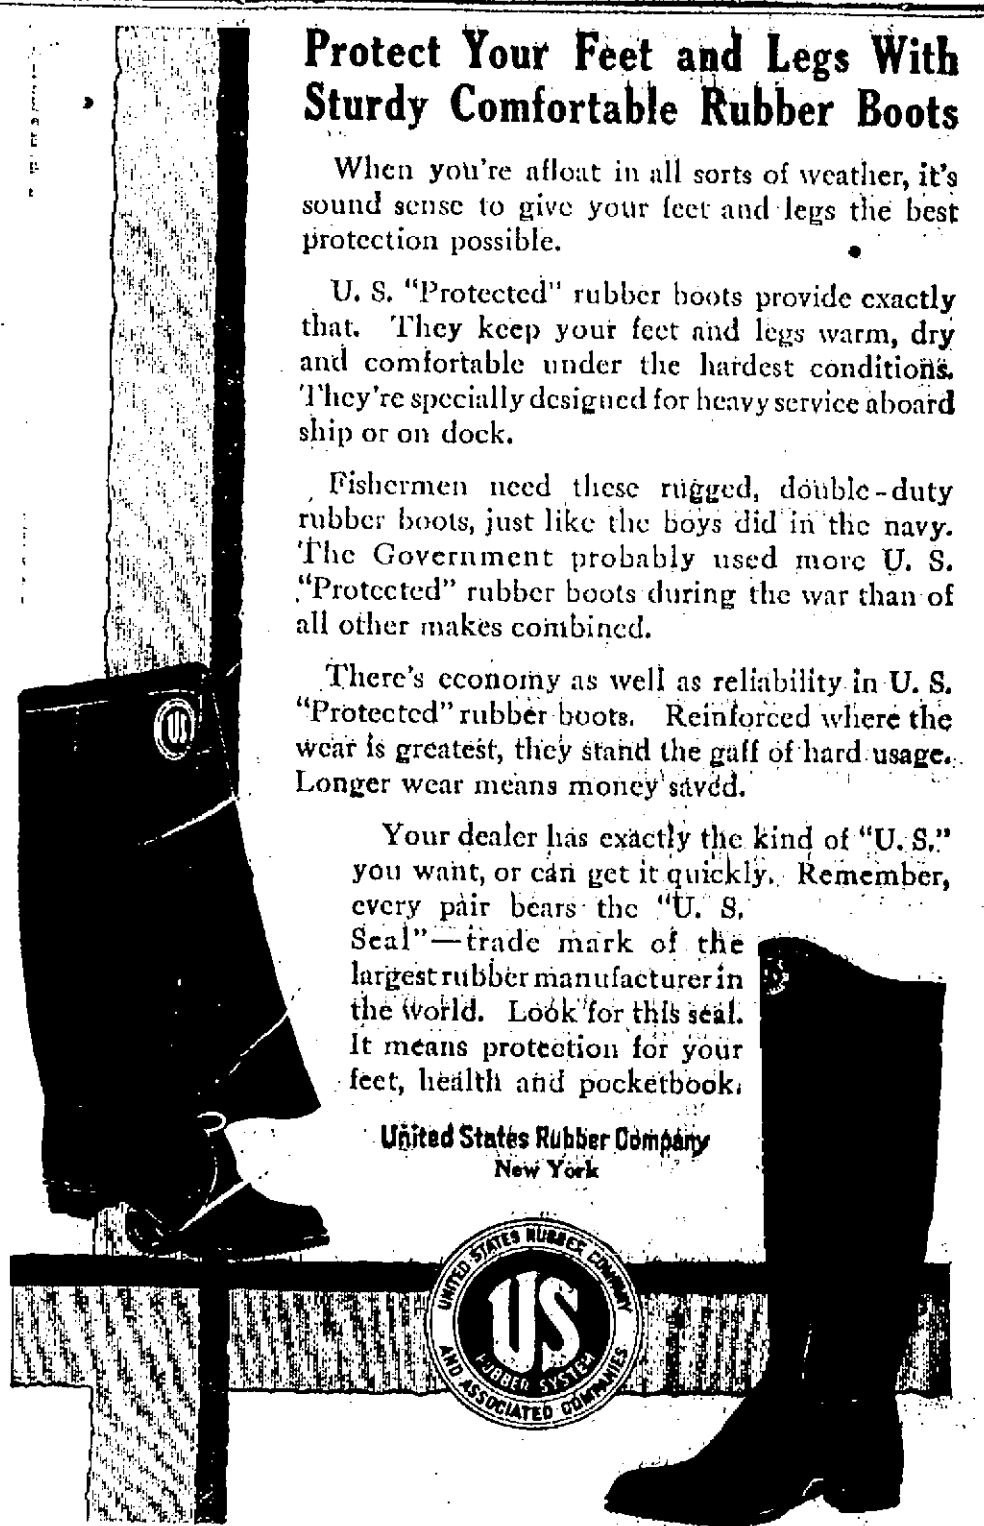

U. S. "Protected" rubber boots provide exactly that. They keep your feet and legs warm, dry and comfortable under the hardest conditions. They're specially designed for heavy service aboard ship or on dock.

Fishermen need these rugged, double-duty rubber boots, just like the boys did in the navy. The Government probably used more U. S. "Protected" rubber boots during the war than of all other makes combined.

There's economy as well as reliability in U. S. "Protected" rubber boots. Reinforced where the wear is greatest, they stand the gaff of hard usage. Longer wear means money saved.

Your dealer has exactly the kind of "U. S." you want, or can get it quickly. Remember, every pair bears the "U. S. Seal"—trade mark of the largest rubber manufacturer in the world. Look for this seal. It means protection for your feet, health and pocketbook.

Portsmouth, N. H., Friday, May 2, 1919.

Keep Up the Good Work.

Secretary of War Baker wants it understood that the time for ceasing work in behalf of the service men has not arrived, and that there is as much need of this work now as there has been at any time. In a recent letter to C. W. Waldron, director of the Boston War Camp Community Service, he urged a vigorous continuation of the work of the volunteer service in Boston and throughout New England.

Secretary Baker says the thousands of New England soldiers who are being discharged and those still in the service need the help of the Community Service as much as they have at any previous time, and he regrets to learn that many local workers have been gradually lessening their activities since peace was declared, being under the impression that their services were no longer needed.

Not only the War Camp Community Service but other welfare organizations have been reducing their activities for some time, and this is a matter of deep concern to Secretary Baker, who desires to have the work continued for the present and stoutly combats the idea that it is no longer necessary. In his letter to Mr. Waldron the secretary says: "It is not possible for me to convey to you the great value of this work to the morale of the men in and out of the service. Our soldiers will not forget the generous work of those who have met them at all hours with smiles and warm food, and those who have opened their homes, provided quarters and done a thousand other things for the comfort of the men in uniform."

It is not strange that Community Service and other workers should have felt that the need of their services was practically at an end after the war was concluded and the boys began to arrive home, but what the secretary of war says should convince them of their mistake. The returned soldiers and those that are returning can be greatly helped and benefited by the attentions of these workers, who without doubt will be glad to keep their shoulders to the wheel when they realize the necessity of continued action.

While Secretary Baker's letter was addressed to a Boston man, its contents applies to all war workers in New England, and what he says will without doubt be heeded by them. Such slackening of effort as there has been was not due to a lack of interest or willingness to serve further the men who have served their country so gallantly in its hour of need, but to the erroneous, though natural, conclusion that there was no further need of the work they had been doing.

The people of Portsmouth know what has been done by the War Camp Community Service here, as well as by other organizations laboring in behalf of the men in all branches of the service, and it is safe to say that these services will be continued as long as conditions call for their continuance.

And the same should be true of every community in New England. Secretary Baker's reminder that necessity for action still exists is timely, and a knowledge of this fact will in the great majority of cases be sufficient.

The employment situation is better in Portsmouth than in many communities in New England and other parts of the country, and the present outlook is that there will be no serious trouble here. The navy yard and the shipyards are very helpful, and the people of the city may be trusted to do their best to see that there is a place for every man returning from the service.

General Manager Driver of the New England Telephone and Telegraph Company in announcing the coming increase in rates says: "The reason for the changes in rates is obvious. The company must get increased revenue in order to meet increased costs." Nothing further needs to be said, and those who did not expect this outcome must have been "asleep at the switch."

The naval prisoners have on more than one occasion proved themselves excellent entertainers, and if their audiences could have the privilege of the "referendum" the members of the cast would not much longer remain in confinement.

A bomb was sent the other day to Mayor Ole Hanson of Seattle, who recently handled a labor strike in that city with a firm and effective hand. The incident shows that even the upholding of the laws is attended with danger.

This is the week of Portsmouth's big drive in behalf of the Victory Loan. As publishers are wont to say, "Now is the time to subscribe."

Having had an opportunity to study the text of the revised covenant of the League of Nations, those who think they know more about this business than those who are doing it should speak up.

And the Metal Trades Council is now going into the show business. Is the example of the naval prisoners proving contagious?

POLICE GUARD ROXBURY FROM NEW RIOTING

(By Associated Press)

Boston, May 2.—The police today are taking every precaution to prevent a repetition of the rioting that took place in the Roxbury district yesterday in which over one hundred people were arrested.

Every precaution was taken to guard the prisoners against possible injury from the crowds or an attempt to rescue them by their friends.

The route over which the riotous women went to the court house was guarded, and no one was allowed to pass without being subjected to the closest scrutiny of detectives.

Five of the rioters were tried this morning and two were given two months' sentences in the house of correction for "taking part in an affray." The others were released.

WELCOME HOME

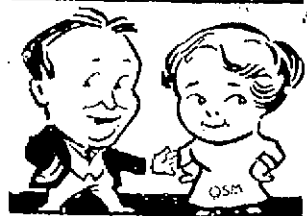

ROLAND S. FAULKNER.

Roland S. Faulkner has returned from overseas duty, having gone across in July, 1918, and was a participant in three of the battles. He entered the service in Sept. 1917, and was sent to Camp Devens, Ayer, and assigned to Battery A, 303d Field Artillery and given the rank of corporal soon after. He was later transferred from the 76th to the 24th division.

Frederick Gooding, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gooding of this city, arrived at his home Thursday evening from Camp Devens, Ayer, Mass., having returned from overseas on the San Jose. The young man was at Camp Devens for ten months as a Y. M. C. A. worker and later enlisted and was assigned to the 303d Field Artillery. While a private in that regiment he was generally detailed for Y. M. C. A. work and as an assistant to the chaplain. He is receiving hearty greetings from his many friends.

Sergeant William Cronin of this city, returned from overseas with the 101st Engineer. Sergeant Cronin is one of the best known of the Portsmouth boys who have served with the American Army in France. For several years he held responsible positions with the Harman & Bailey gloves and other concerns and was considered a most valuable man. He held positions from advance agent to transportation manager and at the time war was declared was in the Pacific coast. He threw up his position as soon as possible and came across the country and volun-

PEOPLE'S OPINIONS

Editor—An athletic field is the only thing that Trap Academy needs to make it an ideal school. What is a school without athletics? Naturally, the boys of Trap Academy are eager to get in and put Trap ahead in athletics but what can they do? They are handicapped by not having an athletic field. It is the duty of the citizens of the town of Kittery to furnish the Academy with suitable grounds for athletics. The base ball team which has been playing for two years or more has been obliged to travel to other towns to play all their games. This gives the people of the town no chance to see what they can do. Hence the one is interested in athletics at Trap.

This proposition should be put to the proper officials at once and an athletic field fitted out as soon as possible. Help revive old Kittery's standing in athletics. Don't let other towns get ahead of Kittery.

A FRIEND OF THE BOYS.

Council Did Right.

Editor—The city council should be commended for the action which was taken on Thursday evening in the matter of further exemption of taxes for the Portsmouth hospital. The council is justified in holding up this matter. If the Portsmouth hospital is a private institution, as the board of trustees and directors claim it is, why does the city make a yearly appropriation for the same, and if one is made why not have a representative of the city government among the directors? The city should take the same stand as organized labor and demand that the rank and file of the people be represented if the people's money is going to help support the hospital.

If a select few wish to run the hospital as they see fit and for their own purpose, let that few support it.

The resolution as introduced in the city council is not yet plain to some members of the board and they intend to be heard before final action is taken.

The first half of this great picture exhibits the salient events of the Civil War, which came to a close at Appomattox about fifty years ago. Lincoln's call for troops, Sherman's march to the sea, the Battle of Petersburg, Lee's surrender to Grant, and the awful tragedy in Ford's Theatre, which plunged a people into despair. Five again before the spectator of the Griffith drama. In the second half the South's "second uprising," this time against the tyranny of the Carpet Baggers' misrule, is shown in a thrilling story of Reconstruction days. The delightful romance of the little Confederate cadet, Ben Cameron, with the Northern girl, Elsie Stoneman; and that of the Palen captain, Phil Stoneman, with Margaret Cameron, the South Carolina belle, maintain two threads of continuous interest throughout the story. The fun and frolic of plantation days, as well as the heartache and pathos of the stricken South, are shown. The great out-of-doors is Mr. Griffith's special field. The huge battle scenes, covering miles of country, and the wild night rides of the clansmen, are staged with thousands of participants. A complete musical score interpreted by an unhampered orchestra, follows the ac-

CLERKS IN THE POSTOFFICE ARE WATCHING FOR BOMBS

Although the Portsmouth postoffice has received no direct notification to be watching out for bombs in mail packages, the local employees are on the look-out for any infernal machines. The bombs are said to be mailed in packages an inch square and the length of a fountain pen. The finding of bombs in other offices has led the clerks to be particularly cautious and although it is not anticipated that any will be sent to this city the men prefer to be on the safe side and will give special attention to packages that have the appearance of being out of the ordinary.

LAMP EXPLODED FAMILY ESCAPE

The chemical company was called out shortly after ten o'clock on Thursday evening by a still alarm from a house 322 Court street, owned by Harry Hession and occupied by Mrs. Susan Hession and two other families.
The fire started in the part of Mrs.
Hession who was out at the time and it is supposed to have been from a lamp explosion. The inmates of the other side were asleep and were awakened by smoke and got out with an infant child in their night clothes.

The fire had worked up into the partitions and it was some time before the department could get at it. A hydrant stream was used and there was considerable damage to the apartment occupied by Mrs. Hession. The loss will be in excess of $500.

SPECIAL WEEK FOR FARMERS AT N. H. COLLEGE

New Hampshire College, Durham, N.
H., May 1. New Hampshire College has set aside the week of August 19 as a special occasion to be known as farmers' and home-makers' week and President Hixon has just been informed by the state board of agriculture that that organization will make one day of this week the time for its annual meeting. Practically every agricultural organization in the state of New Hampshire has agreed to take an active part in making the farmers' and home-makers' week here a success.

For several years the college devoted one week to a short course for the farmers of the state. This year the work is to be broader and all state organizations interested in agriculture are invited to cooperate. The college does not expect either to confine the week exclusively to agriculture in that it expects and hopes for the attendants here at that time of business men and of all others interested in the general program and welfare of New Hampshire.

The week, it is hoped, will serve as a valuable educational factor in the overturning and home-making pursuits of the state and the conference which will be held at that time it is hoped will help define general policy and plans for the promotion of state interests.

The college hopes to make this meeting an annual affair and expects it will serve as a means of acquainting all who can come with the nature and scope of the various agencies in the state and to suggest ways by which residents of New Hampshire can more greatly benefit from their services.

The commencement period schedule has just been announced and differs from that of former years in bringing commencement itself one day earlier in the week. This year commencing commencement comes Tuesday, June 17.
The commencement exercises will open with an alumni reunion in Durham, Saturday, June 14, and every effort is being made to have this the greatest gathering of alumni the college has ever seen. Sunday, there will be the baccalaureate service and memorial service for those who died in the war and Monday, the 16th, is class day.

EASY TO DARKEN YOUR GRAY HAIR

You can Bring Back Color and Lustre with Sage Tea and Sulphur.

When you darken your hair with Sage Tea and Sulphur, no one can tell, because it's done so naturally, so evenly. Preparing this mixture, though, at home is messy and troublesome. For 30 cents you can buy at any drug store the ready-to-use preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, called "Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning all gray hair disappears, and, after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully darkened, glossy and lustrous.

Gray, faded hair, though no disgrace, is a sign of old age, and as we all desire a youthful and attractive appearance, get busy at once with Wych's Sage and Sulphur Compound and look years younger.

CONTRACTORS WORKING AT TRADE IN DOVER

Will Fight Carpenters for Demands Made by the Union.

Several contractors at Dover are today in overalls and working with the hatchet, hammer and saw, owing to the strike of the Carpenters' Union who want increase of pay, eight hours and adjustment of other matters.
The men at work are those employed on contracts started before the strike was called. They are expected shortly to complete the work and join the strike, Edwin Frost, chairman of the contractors, says they are to stand firm against the union's demands. The matter has been under discussion for many weeks and finally ended in a general strike on Thursday. The contractors are preparing to do job work themselves and will not engage in any contract for general building in that city.

MAY PARTY Enjoyed by Baptist King's Daughters.

MAY PARTY
The Golden Rule Club of King's Daughters of the Middle Street Baptist church met at the home of Mrs.
Maudie Akerman on State street
Thursday afternoon when a May party was enjoyed, 30 members of the organization being present.
Previous to the May party a demonstration of aluminum ware was given in the kitchen and the demonstrators served pot roast, baked potatoes, perfect with maple syrup.

All later were invited into the dining room, which the hostess had decorated appropriately for May time. The room was furnished with homelike and spring flowers and the table, beautified with homelike and paper roses, had in the center a hand-some floral centerpiece and at each corner a dainty May basket filled with bonbons. At the guests were paper dolls decorated with pink streamers. They drew lots to see who would have the honor of presiding at the table, at the May party and this fell to Mrs. M. H.
Roberts of State street, one of the oldest members of the organization, and certainly no better choice could have been made.

The hostess served assorted cake, coffee, salted peanuts and candy. It was a most pleasant gathering to all who attended and the May Day party of the Circle will be pleasantly remembered.

3224 NEGROES LYNCHED IN THIRTY YEARS

(By Associated Press)
New York, May 2.—In the last thirty years 3224 persons have been put to death in the United States by lynchings, according to a report made public today by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.
"Georgia leads in the list with 386 victims," says the report, followed closely by Mississippi, Texas, Louisiana, Alabama, Arkansas, Tennessee, Florida and Kentucky. Discussing President Wilson's earnest appeal made under such extraordinary circumstances, lynchings continue during the remaining period of the war with unabated fury. Sixty-three negroes, 5 of them women, and 4 white men followed in 1918.

"COME HOME," U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE SAYS

St. Louis, May 1.—The Chamber of Commerce of the United States, representing half a million business men, today adopted unanimously a resolution urging the immediate return to this country of President Wilson and an extraordinary session of Congress to enact legislation necessary "to safeguard our social and business structure."

APPROPRIATION BILL PASSED

Council in Special Session do Much Business--Board of Health up Again--Will Raise Salaries of City Officials

The Mayor and Council held a meeting on Thursday evening, that is they got started on the public meeting in their council chamber at 9:20, although it was called for 8 o'clock, but this is the habit of the present board.

The annual appropriation bill carrying $375,399.92 was presented and passed by its title under a suspension of the rules. The annual appropriation for the Water Board carrying $98,892.42 was also passed in the same fashion without discussion.

There is another argument over the Board of Health and it ended in the Council electing another member of the Board of Health and no city physician, which condition still remains, vacant since the resignation of Dr. J. H. Reed some months ago.

A resolution to extend the exemption of the Portsmouth Hospital from $150,000 as at present to $250,000, owing to the fact that there are legacies coming due with which additions will be built to the hospital, Councilman Weston explained that the tax would eat up the income, but the measure was killed on a roll call. If the hospital is taxed on its addition, it will have the distinction of being the only hospital in the state which is taxed. The state laws provide for the exemption from taxes of hospitals, but by vote of city governments.

A resolution authorizing the increase in the pay of certain of the city officials passed its first reading and will remain on the table for one week as provided in the act of the last legislature which enabled the City Council to increase the salaries of officials.

An invitation from the Atlantic Corporation to the Mayor and Council, to attend the launching on Saturday afternoon, was received and accepted.

Bonanzas were granted in seven pool rooms and two for sale of gasoline.

The Police Improvement Society petition for a street light was granted.

A woman was elected a member, possibly the first ever in the city. She is Miss Merton Carl for the Charles W. Gray Company.

A resolution offered by Councilman Humphries to increase the tax exemption of the Portsmouth Hospital from $150,000 to $250,000 was objected to by Councilman Barrett who asked that it lay over a week. Councilman Weston explained that the hospital was soon to get a legacy by which they could build an addition to the present plant and wanted the exemption for cause it taxed it would eat into the income.

A yes and nay vote was necessary and it was killed. Councilman Weston and Matthews voted for the exemption and Councilmen Leakey, Heane, Pink, Barrett, Donovan, Humphries and Dunn against.

Councilman Humphries offered another ordinance, which was finally read by Councilman Matthews, and it called for the increase in the salaries as follows: City Messenger, $1,000; Auditor $1500; Clerk of the Assessors, $1,800 and City Treasurer $750, and be retroactive to Jan. 1.

Councilman Barrett wanted to increase the pay of the two other members of the Board of Assessors $100 a year but on roll call, the bill passed with only Councilmen Leakey and Dunn in opposition.

The annual appropriation bill was brought in by the finance committee, and on motion of Councilman Weston who said that the Council had all seen the bill, it was read by its title and passed under a suspension of the rules. Councilman Donovan inquired about the hospital appropriation and if the Mayor was to be a member of the Board of Directors, Mayor Hibel said that he would find out where the trouble lay, and if not corrected he would refuse to draw his warrant for the sum in the bill. The full bill is printed in another column.

The annual appropriation for the water department, amounting to $88,892.42 was presented, to come out of the water revenue, and on suspension of the rules passed.

There was an argument over the election of a member of the Board of Health. Councilman Barrett claimed that the Council should elect a city physician, but Mayor Hibel said that there was one physician on the board and that was enough. On roll call Frank M. McMahon was elected a member of the Board of Health, Councilman Barrett, Donovan and Dunn voting for Mr. Kittledge.

Councilman Barrett made a speech in which he maintained that this was the only city which had thrown down a retiring soldier in not electing Kittledge.

As the Board of Health now stands there are three members and no city physician as required by law, which states that one member shall be elected city physician and shall be a member of the Board of Health.

Adjourned for one week.

SUFFRAGE LEAGUE SUPPER

The May Day Suffrage supper last evening was one of the social successes of the season. Over a hundred were served, including members of several professions and prominent merchants.

The suffrage color faded the chief note in the decorations extending to the dining dresses of the six misses who served as waitresses. The chicken and waffles were delicious and the home-made for cream cakes and pies were appreciated.

The management of the affair was under the control of Miss M. Frances Rothwell, president of the local league, and Miss Martha Kimball, the state president, aided by several of the members. Music followed the supper. Public acknowledgment is hereby made to several donors of their gifts of money toward meeting the state suffrage expenses.

WARWICK CLUB GAVE RECEPTION

The members of the Warwick Club tendered a reception to Lt. Bailey V. Emery and Sgt. Jere Wadson from overseas on Thursday evening. The reception was in the form of a smoker and both gave an interesting talk on their experiences at the front. At the close refreshments were served.

OBITUARY

Gardner V. Urch.
The death of Gardner Vennard Urch occurred this morning at his home, 250 Northwest street, after an illness of several months.

He was born in New Castle, March 11, 1875, and the son of Ephraim and Abella (Vennard) Urch. He married Miss Florence Curtis, daughter of the late Joseph Curtis, who survives him, and a daughter, Lillie. He also leaves five sisters, Mrs. Valeria Spiny of Elliot; Mrs. Fred B. Due of Brooklyn, N. Critical Period in Chicks' Life Is During Brooding, When the Young Fowl Require Constant Care, Small Amounts of Feed Fed Frequently and Shelter at a Uniform Temperature.

Did you ever watch Mrs. Cock Roblin care for her young? She builds for them a downy, comfortable nest; she rustles plenty of choice worms to satisfy their hunger; in her every action she shows care and solicitude for the welfare of her brood. Similarly, the management and brooding of young chicks necessitate the maximum of conscientious attention in order that every possible comfort and facility be provided for the rapid and economical development of the baby flock. On many poultry farms the brooding of chickens is one of the most critical operations, especially for the beginner. Many poultry-keepers who are able to secure good egg yields and fair hatches fail in brooding chickens, either by raising only a small percentage of the chickens hatched or by failing to rear strong, vigorous birds which develop into good breeding stock.

Rearing Chickens With Hen.

Sitting hens should be confined to slightly darkened nests at hatching time and kept disturbed unless they step on or pick their chickens when hatching, in which case the chickens should be removed as soon as dry to a basket lined with burlap or some other warm material and kept near a fire until all the eggs are hatched; or the eggs may be removed and placed under a quieter hen whose eggs are hatching at the same time. An incubator may also be used to keep the earliest hatched chickens warm, in case they are removed from the nest. If the eggs hatch unevenly, those which are slow in hatching may be placed under other hens, as hens often get restless after a part of the chickens are out, allowing the remaining eggs to become rotten at the very time when steady heat is necessary. Remove the egg shells and any eggs which have not hatched as soon as the hatching is over. Hens should be fed as soon as possible after the eggs are hatched, as feeding tends to keep them quiet; otherwise many hens will leave the nest. In most cases it is best that the hen remain on the nest and brood the chickens for at least 24 hours after the hatching is over.

Dusting the Hen.

The hen should be powdered with a good insect powder before moving her and the chickens to the brood coop. She should be dusted every two weeks, or as often as necessary until the chickens are weaned. If lice become thick on the chickens, or if they are troubled with "head lice," a very little grease, such as lard or vaseline, may be applied with the fingers on the head, neck, under the wings, and around the vent. Great care should be taken, however, not to get too much grease on the chickens, as it will stop their growth and in some cases may prove fatal.

Confining the Hen.

The hen should be confined in the coop until the chicks are weaned, while the chickens are allowed free range after they are a few days old. Where hens are allowed free range and have to forage for feed for themselves and the chicks, they often take them through wet grass, where the chicks may become chilled and die. Most of the feed the chicks secure in this manner goes to keep up the heat of the body, whereas feed eaten by those that are with a hen that is confined produces more rapid growth, as the chicks do not have too much exercise. Then, too, in most broods there are one or two chicks that are weaker than the others, and if the hen is allowed free range the weaker ones often get behind and out of the hearing of the mother's cluck and call. In most cases this results in the loss and death of these chicks. If the hen is confined the weaklings can always find shelter and heat under her, and after a few days may develop into strong, healthy chicks.

Milk Mash is Good for Chicks

The young chicks may be fed any time after they are 36 to 48 hours old, whether they are with a hen or in a brooder. The first feed may contain either hard boiled eggs, Johnny-cake, stale bread, pinhead oatmeal or rolled oats, which feeds or combinations may be used with good results. Mashies mixed with milk are of considerable value in giving the chicks a good start in life, but the mixture should be fed in a creamy mass and not in a sloppy condition. After the chicks are two months old they may be fed four times daily, and after three months old three times daily, with good results. Johnny-cake composed of the following ingredients in the proportions named is a very good feed for young chicks: One dozen fertile eggs or 1 pound of sifted beef scrap to 10 pounds of corn meal; add enough milk to make a pasty mash, 1 tablespoonful of baking soda, and bake until done. Dry bread crumbs may be mixed with hard-boiled eggs, making about one-fourth of the mixture eggs, or rolled oats may be used in place of the bread crumbs. Feed the bread crumbs, rolled oats, or Johnny-cake mixtures five times daily for the first week then gradually substitute for one or two feeds of the mixture finely cracked grains of equal parts by weight of cracked wheat, finely cracked corn, and pinhead oatmeal or rolled oats, to which about 5 per cent of cracked peas or broken rice and 2 per cent of charcoal, linseed or rape seed may be added. A commercial chick feed may be substituted if desired. The above ration can be fed until the chicks are two weeks old, when they should be placed on grain and a dry or wet mash mixture.

Members of Fighting Eleventh Engineers Who Have Not Lined Up With the "Drys"

Judging from the cheers which greeted the raising of a banner on which was the glaring inscription "We Want Beer," there are few "drys" among the returning members of the Eleventh Engineers. This photograph was taken while they en-were waiting to disembark from a transport at Hoboken. The Eleventh Engineers were the first A. E. F. forces to battle with the Germans. They were attacked while building a railroad, dropped their picks and shovels, picked up their rifles and charged the advancing enemy.

TANKS FOR RECRUITING

The 12 French wheeler tanks, which are being used in the campaign to begin the Victory Loan, are to be used in the interests of army recruiting throughout Massachusetts, according to the plans of officers in charge of the recruiting office on Tremont row. A request has been sent to Washington for permission to use these fighting tanks for recruiting work, as soon as the Liberty Loan drive is completed and it is felt that the permission will be granted.

The tanks will be sent throughout various cities and towns in Massachusetts. At present the list of cities to be visited includes Boston, Haverhill, Lawrence, Lynn, Peabody, Lowell and several others.

The month of April has shown a decided increase in the number of enlistments. Although the official figures have not as yet been compiled, it is estimated that 300 men have enlisted at the Tremont street recruiting station during the past month. In pre-war times the number was 50 to 60 a month.

Authority to enlist 500 men for service in the Coast Artillery Corps at the forts in Boston Harbor, has been received at the office, from the War Department.

Many colored men have been applying at the recruiting office for service in the cavalry in the Philippines. Through some mistake, it has been thought that applications were open to all men. The authorization allows only for the enlisting of colored men who have had previous military service. They are to be assigned only to the colored cavalry in the Philippines.

"WISE ONES EASY FOOLED"

Boston, May 1.—Mrs. Dorothy Keating, for seven years a forewoman in the Moulton-Forbes factory on Kingston street, was a witness for the government yesterday in the trial in the federal court of Stanley D. Forbes of Swampscott, on the charge of conspiracy to defraud the government in connection with the shipment of what were alleged to be rejected army shelter tents.

Mrs. Keating testified she had seen the government inspector at the factory set aside certain shelter tent halves. Mrs. Forbes, she said, told her not to reject some of them, but they were to be shipped as they were. Later she asked Forbes if he was not afraid of being found out after the tents got to France. She said he told

CLEW TO N. H. MURDER TRACED TO BOSTON

A clew to the murder of Dennis J. Clifford, who was found brutally beaten to death in his home in Hooksett, just across the Manchester line, Oct. 15, 1918, has been unearthed in the tracing of a restaurant check paid up near the scene of the crime. Investigations by the Department of Justice, through one of its agents, resulted in the locating in an internment camp in Georgia, of a waiter by the name of Dickel, who issued the check in Tomford's restaurant, Boston, in September, 1918. The man, now held as an enemy alien at the camp, told the Department of Justice agent, after identifying the check, that the man to whom it was issued came into the restaurant in company with two other men.

The description given of this man by Dickel tallies with that of a man known to have been about the Clifford place preceding the discovery of the body, who was also seen in that vicinity on the day following that on which Clifford is believed to have been murdered.

Other articles have been found near the scene of the crime which, it is believed, have an important bearing on the case. Among them are a woman's silk glove and a button such as is worn on railway uniforms. From facts in the possession of the authorities, it is thought several hundred dollars, alleged to have been taken from the body, was not secured at the time of the murder but later unearthed by the murderer where he had hidden it.

The description of the man seen about the place and who is believed to be the murderer, is given as follows: About 34 years old, smooth face, 5 feet 10 inches in height and extremely broad shouldered having a large neck, khaki shirt, a gray cap and overalls, torn about the left leg.

Investigations which have led the officers into Maine and the South have resulted in information which it is believed will lead to the identification of the three men who were in the restaurant in Boston.

It is always difficult to convince the average laboring man that a man who wears good clothes isn't holding down a soft job.

APRIL NEARLY BROKE HOT AND COLD MARKS

April having almost broken the record for maximum and minimum April temperatures and having departed leaving a deficiency of 1.22 inches of rainfall for the month, 19 degrees in the 20, has been exceeded only once in 43 Aprils, in 1871, when the record was 11 degrees on the 5th.

And yet the month just closed was, on the whole, an average April for temperature, the mean for the 30 days 45 degrees, being the normal for April during the previous 43 years. Yesterday, the last day of the month, had a maximum of 55, reached at 11 a. m., and a minimum of 41 early in the morning, the mean being 50 degrees. It rained during the past month on 18 days, the total being 2.33 inches.

The hardest rain for any 24 hours reported was 1.60 inches on the 16th and 17th.

Only six of the 30 days were absolutely clear. On 16 days cloudiness prevailed 8-10 or more of the time, while eight days were partially cloudy.

HEAD OF AIR MAIL SERVICE

Boston, May 2.—Charles L. Stanton, son of William J. Stanton, 170 Reservoir avenue, Revere, was Wednesday appointed eastern superintendent of the air mail service of the Postoffice Department, his territory to embrace Washington, Philadelphia, Belmont Park, New York, Leighton and Bedford, Penn.

Mr. Stanton is 25 years of age and is a native of Revere. He was graduated from the Revere High School and Tufts College. At the opening of the war he enlisted in the aviation branch of the army. For several months he was attached to the Santa Ana Aviation Field and was a member of the crew that flew from Boston to New York, last summer, with mail, at the time Postmaster William Murray made the sensational journey.

THE BEAR HUNT

(From the P. H. S. Clarion)

One day in early spring while out hunting on the slopes of a mountain near my hut in the Rockies, I noticed bear tracks, freshly made, and my friend and I decided to follow this trail. After a time we came to a small clearing, where, through the trees, we saw a large grizzly bear. The bear saw us at about the same moment and ambled quickly away. We followed and saw her go into a cave not far off. Our dog started to go into this yawning black hole, but stopped at the sound of an ominous growl from the inside of the dark cavern. The thought occurred to us that there might be cubs in the cave, and, we knew that if such were the case, we had no gentle customer to deal with. We went very cautiously up to the entrance and peered in, with our guns ready for instant use. The animal's eyes glowed through the darkness like coals of fire and the growling grew intensely.

Although it was not a sportsmanlike thing to do and we should have preferred to shoot the bear in the open, (for we were anxious to secure the young cubs as well as a fine bear skin) we both shot into the darkness. We heard an angry roar, and the big brute rushed furiously out of the cave, but she was so badly wounded that her movements were very uncertain and two more shots finished her. We crept into the cave, taking extreme care and searching each corner with our flashlights. We heard a low whining cry to our right, and there in a small niche we saw two little cubs. They were too young to offer any resistance and we took them up and carried them out into the light. Each of us took one cub and struck out for home.

When I got my little prize to camp I asked the cook to get some warm milk and, having received this, with some labor I proceeded to feed the cub with the aid of a large spoon. The little fellow took the milk greedily and then went peacefully off to sleep. Shep, my large collie dog and constant companion, walked over to the sleeping cub and gently poked this strange bundle of fur with his nose. The un-derly stirred sleepily, and Shep, after nosing about for a few moments, walked away. Shep's second encounter with the bear cub was not quite as peaceful. It occurred a few weeks later, when the little cub was able to run around by himself and get into all kinds of mischief. He was lying on the step, apparently fast asleep, when Shep came up and sniffed around. The cub did not stir and Shep gave him a hard poke with his nose. One of the bear's paws flew out and the sharp little claws caught Shep on the end of his tender nose. Shep, with a howl of pain, took to flight and it was some time before we could get him near the little cub again. Soon, however, they became fast friends.

As Jack, (for this was the name I had bestowed on my little prize), grew larger, he grew restless and was apparently filled with longing for the freedom of the open woods. Nothing the little cub's restlessness, I finally decided to send him back to his native haunts. I thought this would probably be the last we should see of Jack, but we were mistaken.

One day, some time afterward, my friend and I were out hunting on the same mountain where we had first seen Jack. Again we saw bear tracks and again we started to follow them. Shep took up the trail at once and was soon lost to sight, but in a few moments we heard his excited yelping and knew that he had cornered something. I said, "Ted, there is something unusual over there; I never heard Shep yelp like that before." We hastened over and saw Shep facing a partly grown grizzly bear. They eyed each other and then edged closer and closer, finally snuffing familiarly muzzle to muzzle. "Ted," said I, "That cub is Jack, the little cub!" and rushed forward with the idea of again capturing the little fellow, to whom I had become really attached while I had held him in captivity. Jack, however, having had his taste of freedom, was wary of being again caught, and scrambled away quickly into the underbrush and was soon lost to view. Shep started to follow, but I quickly recalled him and we started back for our hut. I have often since that time wondered what has become of Jack. I wonder if he has fallen victim to the gun of some hunter like ourselves, or if he is still roaming at will among his native woods and mountains. And I always find myself wishing that it may be the latter, and that when finally he is called to the bears' happy hunting grounds, it may be because he has lived his full term of life and not as the prey of a murderous bullet.

CAN'T BEAT "TIZ" WHEN FEET HURT

"Tiz" for sore, tired, puffed-up, aching, calloused feet or corns.

You can be badly footed in a moment. Use "Tiz" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, aching feet. "Tiz" and "only Tiz" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a "Tiz" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor, old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "Tiz" is gentle. "Tiz" instantly draws out all the poisonous excretions which put up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty feet.

Get a 25-cent box of "Tiz" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief! Laugh at foot sufferers who complain because your feet are never, never going to bother or make you limp any more.

Two stores remain directed on the beach.

As usual, St. Patrick's church is among the first places to be put in order for the season. This beautiful and devotional structure will continue to be a factor in the development of Jamaica Beach, from the beginning of its development. The church has been equipped on the policy of accommodating a continuously increasing congregation. Since the close of last season's plot of land was purchased on the east side of the church, which will permit a wider street and an adjacent parking space for motorists. Rev. P. J. Scott, who was on the ground during the past week superintending the spring work about the church, announces that the regular Sunday services will begin on Sunday, May 4, with mass at 10:15.

"BABE" RUTH IS SUSPENDED

Boston, May 1.—Word was received here last night from Washington that Babe Ruth, the mainstay of the Red Sox team, has been indefinitely suspended by Manager Barrow.

According to the Washington dispatch, Ruth was absent from his hotel with nearly daylight yesterday morning, all of which came to Manager Barrow's notice. Yesterday before the game, Barrow accused Ruth of breaking rules, but words followed and then came the word from the manager, which will keep Babe out of today's game in Boston, perhaps many games to come.

GUN CLUB TRAPS FORM LEAD MINES

Every trapshooting club is an embryo lead mine, needing only to be worked to return a rich profit. After three years of shooting over the traps of the du Pont club, Wilmington, Del., the grounds were mined and twenty-three tons of lead were recovered. The grounds at a Columbus, O., gun club were mined several years ago, twenty-six tons of lead were salvaged, one pound of shot being extracted from sixty pounds of dirt.

The Elliot Shooting park, at Kansas City, owned by Robert S. Elliott, the pioneer gun-club miner, yielded a quantity of lead worth $850 the first year it was mined. Two systems are used in recovering shot from the ground—the blower and the placer. The blower system is the simplest and the easiest to install. This method was used on the du Pont grounds. The surface where the greatest amount of shot fell was scraped, one inch of soil and soil being removed to a shredding machine, where it was chopped up finely. A blower was attached to this machine, which was just strong enough to blow the soil out through a pipe. The shot, being heavier, fell into a trough and ran into sacks. The shot was reasonably clean and readily sold.

The entire equipment was inexpensive, consisting of the shredder and the blower and a small gasoline engine to operate them. A force of four men kept the machine constantly supplied with dirt. The placer system is more complicated and more expensive to install, and a large supply of water is needed for its successful operation. The method is used by Mr. Elliott at his Kan. City park, but the immense amount of lead thrown on these grounds—more than 250,000 pounds, being fired annually—justified the additional expense involved in the undertaking.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Aftermath of War

(From the Lowell Courier-Citizen) The dodging of loose mines left floating in the sea after the war must continue for some years to be a recognized incident of ocean travel. The ocean was sown thick with these agents of destruction while the war was on, and by no means all have ever been accounted for. Such things remain actively dangerous for a long time even after submergence in the sea, and while the chances are heavily against a vessel's hitting one in the vast expanse of water traversed between the continents, the remote danger is there and some such thing might happen. Obviously the chance has to be taken and the preponderance of probability is in favor of the multitude of ships as against the occasional wandering mine. Yet the Leviathan has just reported passing within thirty feet of one—by day. Its night no lookout could possibly detect such a neighbor, however vigilant he is.

Krupps Face Bankruptcy

(From the Philadelphia Public Ledger) There is war in Essen. Once the Krupp establishment there was the pride of Germany. Nowhere on earth was there such a production of engines of death. It was the workshop of the War God, but ruled by a woman.

The Kaiser was the richest man in Germany. Frau Krupp, the richest woman.

In the spring of 1914 there were 55,000 names on the Krupp payroll; in the spring of 1915 the total was 170,000 the vast bulk of these laboring in the plants at Essen.

And now the roster at Essen contains only 32,000 names. In the great munition shops an "uncanny silence" reigns. Most of the ordnance work is that for the conquerors, to make up the number of guns etc., demanded by the implacable East. There has been riot and disorder and death in the streets of Essen. A suggestion of the horror that Essen made has come back to Essen.

Bankruptcy threatens.

Always say, "Give me a package of 'Bayer Tablets of Aspirin.'" Insist you want only the Bayer package with the "Bayer Cross" on the package and on the tablets.

Bayer-Tablets of Aspirin

The genuine American owned "Bayer Tablets of Aspirin" have been proved safe by millions for Pain, Headache, Neuralgia, Toothache, Earache, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Colds, Grippe, Influenza Colds, Joint Pains, Neuritis. Proper dosage on every "Bayer" package.

Boxes of 12 tablets—Bottles of 24—Bottles of 100—Also Capsules. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monocellulose of Silkeborg, Denmark.

But worse than riot to Essen is the rumor that Frau Krupp is bankrupt; that in the wreck of the imperial family the great fortune of the Krupps has been wrecked and that the Krupps will be but a memory.

It may prove true. No one gambled more on the war than Frau Krupp or her husband with her. The company has big claims against German Government, but who is to pay them? The capital and surplus of the company went into German war bonds. Now, with the entire plant filled for smelting war material, the cost of transforming it to lines of peace requires a considerable outlay.

Bankruptcy threatens.

HAMPTON BEACH GETTING READY FOR BIG SEASON

Hampton Beach, May 1.—In spite of the very limited trolley service this resort shows many signs of more than usual activity. Beyond question the season of 1919 will see the largest business in the history of the beach. Hampton has a spirit all its own. Its colonists have for their vacation residence that feeling of local patriotism which one is accustomed to observe in public-spirited communities. "The regulars" always return and so had are their prizes of the attractions they enjoy that each year new enthusiasts come to acknowledge the charms of this beautiful strip of New Hampshire's coast line. Even with the prevailing high cost in building activities several additions and some new cottages are under construction. Among the new amusements, a well-equipped bowling establishment with eight regulation alleys is an addition sure to be welcomed. The real estate agents are agreed that prospects were never so bright. All the hotels and boarding houses have already been taken for the season, and at this writing only

WILL SCRAP VICTORS OF SANTIAGO

Washington, May 1.—Three of the four battleships which helped destroy the Spanish fleet off Santiago in 1898—the Indiana, Massachusetts and Iowa—are to be placed out of commission, the Navy Department announced today, and their names reassigned to new submarines.

For historical and other reasons, however, the fourth ship, the famous Oregon, which helped South America in order to be in the battle against Cerro's squadron, will retain her name and will continue service with the Pacific fleet.

As the Indiana, Massachusetts and Iowa probably never again will be placed in active service they will be designated as "coast battleships Nos. 1, 2 and 3." Final disposition of the vessels has not been determined, but they probably will be scrapped and sold for scrap or used as targets for ships of the fleet, as was the old battleship Texas.

The name Indiana will be assigned to battleship No. 50, authorized with nine others in 1916, and which is to be built at the New York navy yard.

The names Massachusetts and Iowa will be given to battleships Nos. 53 and 54, bids for the construction of which will be opened by the Navy Department May 23.

In reassigning the names of the three ships to modern craft, the department is carrying out its policy of renaming battleships for glories, the single exception being the Kearsarge, launched at the outbreak of the Spanish war and named for the civil war frigate which destroyed the Confederate ship Alabama. Even with the names of the armored cruisers reassigned to battleships the names of all states have been exhausted and it thus became necessary to reassign names now held by some of the battleships.

When additional capital ships are authorized it is probable that more of the older battleships will be placed out of commission, but thus far the department has formulated no policy in this regard. Several of the battleships now in commission will be placed in reserve as soon as the American troops are returned from overseas.

The Indiana, Massachusetts and Oregon were the first big gun battleships of the navy and all were built from the same design. They were completed more than 20 years ago and at that time were regarded as the most powerful ships afloat. Each carried four 14-inch rifles, eight 8-inch rifles and many smaller guns.

The Iowa, was completed in 1897, and her first commander was Captain William T. Sampson, who in the next year was transferred to command of the North Atlantic fleet, which fought the battle of Santiago. Captain Robley D. (Bligh) Hobbs Evans, who was the first commander of the Indiana, succeeded to the command of the Iowa and was in charge of her during the Spanish war.

The Iowa was of far different design from the first three battleships. She had a much greater cruising radius, the other vessels being coast defense craft only. The Iowa carried four 12-inch, eight 8-inch and some 6-inch guns.

YANKEE GUNS WERE BIGGEST

Washington, May 1.—Award of the Distinguished Service Medal to Rear Admiral C. D. Bunker for his services by connection with the production, transportation to Europe, and placing in action in the western front, the United States naval gun battalions was announced yesterday by the War Department.

The medal also was awarded to Colonels Alfred J. Booth, Francis W. Huston, Adjutant of the 12th Division; James A. Logan, Jr., and Edward N. Bowditch and Captain John C. Hughes.

LIEUT. CHANDLER
A BRIDEGROOM

Wedding of Grandson of New Hampshire Senator and Miss Beatrice B. Fairfax Celebrated in Washington, D. C.

There is great interest in the wedding which took place in Washington, D. C., Tuesday when Miss Beatrice Bowen Fairfax, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fairfax became the wife of Lieutenant Theodore B. Chandler, U. S. N., son of Captain Lloyd Chandler, U. S. N., and Mrs. Chandler and grandson of the late Senator William B. Chandler of New Hampshire.

The bridegroom and his attendants were in uniform and the colors of the Navy appeared in the frocks of the bride's attendants. These were Misses Elliot Peckham, Mild Sims, Frances Hampton, Margaret Harding, and Rosalie Waters. The best man was Lieut. Sumner Jenkins. The ushers were Lieutenants Allen Smith, Roney Adams, William Hicks, David Collins, Homer Graf and John McCree, all classmates of Lieutenant Chandler at the United States Naval Academy in 1915.

Lieutenant Chandler has been ordered to duty as executive officer of the destroyer Chandler, named for his grandfather, which is now building. He will be stationed in Philadelphia until the craft is completed, after which he and his bride will go to Newport, which is to be his headquarters.

RADICAL LITERATURE SEIZED IN QUINCY

Boston, May 2.—Four men were arrested in the Roxbury district and three in Quincy, charged with distributing radical literature. Leaflets which were found in Quincy called for a general strike until Eugene V. Debs and Thomas J. Mooney were released from prison.

"DANDERINE" FOR FALLING HAIR

Stop dandruff and double beauty of your hair
for few cents.

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots wither, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a small bottle of "Danderine" at any drug store for a few cents, rub a little in your hand and rub it into the scalp. After several applications the hair stops coming out and you can't find any dandruff. Your hair appears soft, glossy and twice as thick and abundant. Try it!

Dear New England Folks:

This is what the war did to me.

Am I downhearted?

No!

If I could only be sure you would support the "Victory" Liberty Loan to a finish I wouldn't care.

But if New England falls down on its quota I will be sore and I won't care if I never come back.

Buddie

Can we folks, safe and sound in mind and limb, look this boy in the eye if the loan fails?

Come on!

Help finish the job

The Victory Liberty Loan is our last chance to put our patriotism to the acid test.
